The blast occured Oct, 31 at 4 p.m. in unoccupied Test Post 500 of the center, Drachlif said.

The blast completely demolished a concrete building 10 by 20 feet used to house instrumentation. A metal frame building was also damaged along with a support column of a nearby-test stand

"We don't know what caused the problem," Drachlif said. "An investigation is going on this week."

According to Drachlif, the area was being modified to conduct engine bearing tests to begin in December. The tests were part of a program for research and development of product improvements for the future,"

The 22 coolant tubes that were severed are located a few inches above the nozzle, Herring said. They carry liquid hydrogen up the nozzle to cool the nozzle during engine operation.

Herring said that the brazing securing the tubes had 'come undone.' No reason was given why. Herring said 'they are still looking into it.'

Meatless Entree Gets . . .

Nutritional Bonus From Almonds

Meatless entrees are appear-ing more regularly these days at the family supper table for reasons of economy and nutri-tion.. By including alternative sources of protein such as eggs, cneese, grains and nuts in place of expensive meats, an entree like Upside Down Almond Tamale Pie can be wholesome economical and delicious.

This dinnertime specialty gets its high marks in protein from a combination of Call-fornia almonds, eggs and Monterey Jack choese. The tender terey Jack cheese. The tender cornmeal crust is enhanced with the unique flavor and distinctive crunchiness of toasted chopped almonds. This is the nut that comes in more convenient forms than any other — diced, silced, silvered or whole — and makes generous contributions of nutrients like vitamin E, riboflavin, phosphorus, copper and magnesium. No wonder almonds are such a reliable and versatile ingredient to add to so many menu categories from soups to breads, and salads to desserts.

The inside filling of this upside-down pie is no less rewarding in flavor and goodness. The filling is a distinctive array of onlons, corn. bell peppers, ripe olives and cheese. Served with itterest it emails sauce, this nourishing almond entree is guaranteed to become a traditional family dinner favorite.

1 can (10-% ounces) condensed chicken broth 34 cup yellow cornmeal

% cup water Mexicali Filling (recipe follows)

14 cup chopped almond l large egg, beaten

2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

1 tablespoon butter

In top of double boiler, combine broth, cornmeal and water. Cook over direct heat, stirring, until mixture thickens. Set over boiling water, cover, and cook 20 minutes. Meanwhile, prepare Mexicali Filling. Grease a 9-inch cake pan and sprinkle with 3 tablespoons of the almonds to coat. When cornmeal mixture is cooked, stir a little into the egg. Beat egg mixture into remaining cornmeal mixture. Add repealings almonds, cheese, that ter, and salt. Mix well. Pat all but 3/4 cup of the mixture into pan to line bottom and sides. Pour in Mexicall Filling. Fold cornmeal mixture over edge of filling, then pat remaining cornmeal over center of pan to cover filling. In top of double boiler, combine broth, cornmeal and remaining commeal over center of pan to cover filling. Bake in 350 degree oven 40 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes, then invert onto serving plate. Serve with hot sauce Makes 6 servings.

Mexicali Filling: Saute ½ cup chopped onion in 1 teaspoon vegetable oil 5 minutes. Combine with 1 can (12 ounces) whole kernel corn with peppers, drained, ½ cup sliced ripe olives, 1 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese, 1 egg beaten, 1 tablespoon chili powder, and ¼ teaspoon Sauce: Saute 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper in 1 teaspoon vegetable oil. Add 1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce with tomato pieces, and 1 teaspoon each Worchestershire sauce and sugar. Simmer 5 minutes. Serve with tamale pie. Makes 1½ cups.

ON SECOND MORTGAGES

When mortgage money is plentiful, lower down payments are common and lending institutions are looking for borrowers for mortgage money. However, the picture changes when money is tight. Often, higher down payments are required. If you do not have the cash to meet the full down payment, second mortgages are also available and nothing to be afraid of. The seller or some other lender may agree to loan you the balance of the down payment in this

The second mortgage on the property carries a higher interest rate and a shorter repayment time - usually from three to five years. The reason for this is the higher risk involved because the second mortgage cannot be satisfied in case of default until after the "first mortgage" is paid off. The second mortgage car excellent complete the sale of property which would otherwise fal by the wayside. Listen very closely to your REALTOR in this situation because professional expertise is a MUST.

The whole State of Mississippi was buzzing Saturday evening and Sunday over the stunning upset of Alabama by Mississippi

We heard one supporter say that State was off this coming weekend and would like a rematch with Mississippi Southern. Guess the best one we heard was the State supporter who dressed and left home Sunday morning without wearing any socks, he just forgot them. Too much excitement. There are a few around thinking that possibly the New Orleans Saints could pull off a similar upset before the season is out. We will just have to wait and see, only thing the season is fast drawing to a close.

On the local football scene, probably the player of the week should go to St. Stanislaus' kicking ace Juan Betanzos.

Betanzos probably set a state record for distance on a field goal in high schools when he booted one 49 yards Friday.

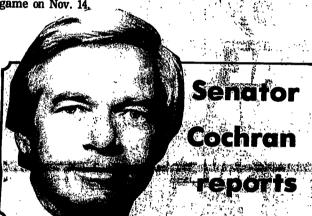

We are sure a lot of colleges will be taking a close look at the best high school kicker we have ever seen play on the Coast.

While on the subject of football, the local teams only have two more weeks to play with the exception of Bay High who close

The Tigers will visit St. John in Eagle stadium,*Bay High will have to play a super effort to take a victory home in the last game of the season. The Hawks of Hancock North Central will visit Poplarville in an annual rivalry of the closely located schools. St. Stanislaus will visit East Central while Pass Christian will entertain Long Beach at home. The Hawks, Rock-A-Chaws and Pirates all will have a final game on Nov. 14.

Congress reconvenes in mid-November for the first lame-duck session in six years, and only the fifth since the end of World War II.

During the first century and a half of our nation's existence, lame-duck sessions of Congress were the rule rather than the exception. But the Twentieth Amendment to the Constitution, ratified in 1933, was aimed at strengthening our representative branch of government and eliminating the need for. lame-duck sessions except in tare cases.

Since the Twentieth Amendment went into effect its business and passed the on January 3, 1935, there have been eight lame-duck: sessions, three before and during the Second World War, and sessions in 1948, 1950, 1954, 1970 and the one in 1974, when the major focus." of the lame-duck session was confirmation of Nelson Rockefeller to be Vice President.

Students of history may be interested to note that all live of the lame-duck sessions since World War II have been during election years; the bven-years when Congress is up for election—all 435° House seats and one-third of the hundred-member Senate."

This year, the necessity. for a lame-duck session was: created by the majority's un-willingness to act before the Congressional elections con the appropriations dang budget legislation essential to keep the government running, ~ am opposed to this lame-duck session, for the simple reason that I believe Congress could have finished budget and appropriations oenaing.

The government is able to function until December 15 through the convenient device known as a continuing resolution which allows various federal agencies and programs to continue operating at their 1980 level of funding.

When we reconvene in a few days, about one fifth of the membership of Congress, or more, will be lame-ducks, either defeated at the polls or headed into retirement.

This is precisely the reason the Twentieth amend-ment was adopted nearly 50 years ago, to eliminate a Congress riddled with members who have already been re-jected by their constituents or retiring from their responsibilities from acting on important matters, affecting the future of our country.

Third graders have excellent role models at Bay High

Editor Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

I, too, would like to comment on the statements that appeared in the Sunday, Oct. 26, issue of the Sea Coast Echo by some parents of third graders who were being moved to the Bay St. Louis High School. Although I understand the ents' concern for their children. I parents' concern for their characteristics feel that an apology is due to the Bay Senior High Students.

My family has reason to know firsthand what a fine group of caring, compassionate young people comprise the Bay High student body.

Last year when we had lost everything in a house fire, the students asked permission from the school administration for the various school dubs to make a gift to us.

This was originated and planned by the students and the presentation to our family was a very personal and touching experience that we will never forget.

These students are fine young people of which their parents and community can be proud.

And, yes, the school faculty, also, for they too have had input in the growth of these young people.

In my opinion, the third graders' parents are blessed to have these young people as examples for their children and should pray that their children will grow up to be as fine as the Bay High students they are criticizing.

In the future, these parents should check the source of their information for accuracy and remember that these young people are also someone's children.

Sincerely Ernestine Smith Bay St. Louis

In regards to the situation existing in the Bay High School system, wherein the third grade students will attend school at Bay Senior High School, I wish to say that the parents may rest assured that it will work, because the classroom teachers will make it work

They will see that your children get to the rest room and water fou without being molested.

And my opinion of the high school students is that they will protect your children, not harm

Local health department exhausts flu vaccine supply

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The Hancock County Health Department in Bay St. Louis and most public clinics across the state recently exhausted influenza vaccine supplies

With the winter flu season approaching, the State Board of Health last month urged chronically ill senior citizens to be vaccinated before the state's limited vaccine supply was

The state this year received limited doses of vaccine to supply community health departments.

Officials of the local health department estimate almost 300 chronically ill residents did not receive an influenza vaccination this year.

Local department clerk Judy Yarborough reported late Wednesday afternoon, "Everybody around the state got about two-thirds of their normal allotted amount of vaccine. That supply lasted us only about two weeks.'

"We usually give out about 700 doses but this year we received only enough vaccine for 420 people," Yarborough

State Chief of the Bureau Desease Control Dr. Durwood Blakey said in Jackson Wednesday afternoon 'the best thing' chronically ill patients should do if they were not vaccinated is to im-mediately be vaccinated by a private physician.

"That's the cheapest form of action," Blakev added.

The bureau chief said there are no other preventative measures against the flu because influenza is a 'respiratory inhalative' disease.

"Once the disease appears in a community it spreads rapidly. There's no particular way not to be exposed to it unless you shut yourself up for months and we don't recommend that,"

Blakey noted. However, the state official said a short term anti-viral drug is available from doctors which is named 'aman-

Blakey said amatadine has 'limited effectiveness' because it must be addaily by a private physician.

"The individual who is critically ill uses this drug for a short when a flu epidemic strikes. Used daily it is very effective," he explained.

"But if a person is critically ill and has not been immunized, we recommend that person get in touch with a physician and ask about the availability of influenza vaccine," Blakey suggests, State Health Officer Dr. Alton B. Cobb said this week, "Local health departments got some 40,000 doses of flu vaccine in September and October. Many counties have used all or most of "The early fall shipments to our 81 county health departments represented 70 percent of the dosage actually administered last year. In 1979, Mississippi administered 55,126 doses compared to 39,704 doses given in 1978, Cobb reported.

"For those two years, Mississippi received special federal grants for influenza immunization of 'high risk' groups - those 65 and older and those ith heart trouble, lung diseases, kidney diseases, diabetes, anemia or other chronic illness. The grants continued the state-level immunization project started in Mississippi in 1958," he explained.

Cobb said some 441,000 Mississipplans are in a 'high risk' population, but only 12 percent took advantage of plentiful public health supplies in 1979.

"Usage was much less than the supplies for the past two years. Based on that and other factors - not only in Mississippi but throughout the nation -Congress did not renew the influenza project grant," he noted.

"Mississippi did get sufficient funds to buy 40,000 doses from our regular immunization effort. We purchased and distributed that, and it has been pretty much administered. No more is

Supervisors set shelter site hearing

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
The Hancock County Board of Supervisors agreed Monday to conduct a public hearing on a proposed site for a animal shelter. The hearing is set at 10 a.m. Monday, Dec. 22 in the Board Room of the County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis.

County Animal Control Commission Chairman C. J. Dumestre told supervisors the commission recommends placing the shelter on a portion of an handoned airfield north of the County Fairgrounds' complex.

Grand Openi

Dumestre also reported an alternate site is available in Waveland, but it is located within a residential area."

Our time frame is an emergency. The Waveland site would require dearing and stumping," the commission chairman stated.

Dunestre explained Alcan Cable Co. in Bay St. Louis, on whose property the existing Bay St. Louis—Waveland pound is temporarily located, is delaying expansion plans until the new shelter is contructed.

Alcan's expansion plans will

Gas cheapest in West Germany

West Germany is going to receive a 7 percent increase in gasoline prices. However, it is still one of the more cheaper countries in Europe in which to drive as the average price of gas is about $2.55 a gallon. —

The commission chairman noted the proposed airfield site is ideal for the shelter because it is bordered by a horse barn and track, and cow barn and pasture.

However, District Five Supervisor James Travirca voiced strong objections to the fairgrounds' site and said a residence is located on Chapman Road northwest of the proposed location.

Dumestre reported, "A house is 500 feet from the proposed location."

Travirca said, "I want to talk to my people before the shelter is built." The supervisor asked where the Waveland site is located and asked Durnestre why the animal facility could not be located there.

"What's wrong with clearing this property off? It would be a lot better than having a public hearing," Travirca suggested.

Regarding the airfield location, Dumestre replied, "We couldn't find a place more appropriate."

The commission chairman explained the Waveland site is 160 feet by 160 feet whereas twice as much land is available at the old airfield location. Travirca stated, "The fairground location is in my district and I want the endorsement of my people."

"We just got through repaying a road in that area," the supervisor added.

Commission Secretary Lolly Backland of Waveland cited, "The shelter would not be as close to the house as the present cow barn is. It's very difficult to find a site for this "The present pound is overcrowded and many members of the County Humane Society are keeping dogs at their homes. In fact, I've got six dogs at my house right now," Backlund ex-

District Four Supervisor Sam Per-niciaro suggested, "If we could move the shelter toward the center of the old airfield it would be further from the house on Chapman"

Dumestre explained the commission selected the site at the airfield so it would not interfere with the fairgrounds and allow future expansion of the pound to house livestock confiscated by the county ranger.

Perniciaro agreed a facility was needed to confine large animals and asked if shelter plans could include a livestock holding area.

Dumestre replied, "Right now the funds we have will only allow building a facility to house small animals."

Bay St. Louis, Waveland and Hancock County have agreed to each contribute $5,000 for construction of a city-county facility.

Travirca voiced further objections, stating, "We're talking about maybe putting a county jail out there."

"I doubt somebody would bring a cow all the way down there. I'm against it,"

Travirca said.
District One Supervisor Bert Courrege reported, "There's a wet area on that airfield. I had to go in with my four-wheel drive vehicle and pull somebody out of there one time."

Dumestre said, "We have scheduled two meetings in November with the U.S. Navy Seabees to discuss construction of the facility."

U.S. will not authorize Beach funds

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR. -

A Federal Highway Admistration official in Jackson will not sign an authorization granting Hancock County funds to repair Beach Boulevard which runs through Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

County Engineer Lawrence Seal told the Hancock Board of Supervisors Monday he met with FHA acting administrator Rothe Davis in Jackson

"Davis said he couldn't sign the authorization. He showed me a copy of a Sept. 27, 1979 article in The Sea Co. Echo which said Hurricane Frederic left the beach road unscathed," Seal reported.

FHA Operations Engineer Clyde Hare said in Jackson Wednesday af-ternoon, "We only have a set of preliminary plans from Hancock County. There was a question of this damage being the result of Hurricane

"The hurricane made this particular catagory of funds available. Ap-parently, the actual damage to the beach road occured after Frederic," Hare stated.

"In a letter Davis" sent to Congressman Trent Lott it says we regret no one in our office is able to give 'assurance' the funds will be engineer reported.

"An editorial in the Sept. 27, 1979 issue of The Sea Coast Echo says damage to the beach road was due to Hurricane Henri. When these funds were approved there was a condition made that damage had to be due to Frederic," Hare explained. The editorial, which calls for state assistance to repair the road to provide a suitable access to Buccanneer State Park in Waveland, states, "Ironically, the winds of Hurricane Frederic, which devasted much of the Mississippi coastline, as well as Alabama and Florida shores creating disaster areas there, came out of the north in Hancock County leaving the beaches and road unscathed."

"Last Thursday night, however, a weather system which was an offshoot of Hurricane Henri far out in the Gulf of Mexico, again pushed storm tides over the beach road, further undermining the artery and rendering it impassible n several areas," the editorial says.

The editorial also cites an earlier spring tropical storm and hurricane as contributing to beach road damage.

Hare explained, "Damage was apparently not due to Frederic, but if a determination can be made that Frederic did damage the roads, funds will be authorized."

Seal said, "Davis said he would not sign the authorization because of the ewspaper article."

The engineer told supervisors of various officials he contacted to try to obtain the funds for the county.

"Regarding the article in The Sea Coast Echo, I ask for advice from the board," Seal stated.

Board Attorney Walter Gex said he would talk privately with Seal after the meeting and added, "If I say something it could be printed, and it won't look as I intended."

Seal stated, "I know what you're talking about because things are picked up out of context.'

Gex reported, "All I can say is that work is being done on it. We need help from the Washington level." Seal added, "We've been getting the run-around."

Regarding the newspaper article, Gex stated, "A year ago no one men-tioned the article. It was apparently mysteriously put in somebody's District One Supervisor Bert Courrege supported the newspaper article by stating, "If we would go back and check the minutes they would reflect we had damage several times before Frederic."

"It's a crying shame we have a state park on that road and we can't get funds for it," Courrege added.

Hare said the county's application preliminary plans are for repairing Beach Boulevard from the western Waveland city limits to St. Charles Street in Bay St. Louis and Street in Bay St. Street in Bay St. Louis and from just north of US-90 in the Bay to the northern end of the boulevard.

By ELLIS CUEVAS Hancock North Central Head Football Coach Irvin Favre expects his team will face a tough opponent Friday when they travel to visit the Poplarville Hornets.

Favre said. "Poplarville is offensively the best team we will play this season. They have four very fast backs, record and are winners of the South Division of the Apache conference, they have the best team from Poplarville in many years." Fayre added.

HNC had an open date last Friday, and the football players took a few days off and tried to heal some bruises getting ready for the two final contests, according to Favre.
"All should play with the Hoda who is still lame with a game. I feel Hoda's chances of playing are very slim," Favre Favre feels the Hawks have a chance against the Hornets if they are able to stay with the offensive and defensive lines in keeping them contained and not letting them break away.

"If Poplarville is able to break away from us. I doubt ifwe have anyone to catch any of those excellent very fast. backs. If we can hang in there and contain them, we can take them that way," Favre emphasized.

After the encounter Ponlarville, the Hawks will close out the season against Pass Christian on Nov. 14.

football coach of Bay High Tigers and Gulfport High and conditioning coach for the Mississippi State Bulldogs, workshop at the Jackson headquarters.

Discussing 'Strength Building for Women Athletes through Weight Training,' Loiacano cited three exercises to help compensate for the female shoulder weakness.

"The military press, up-roll and a bent-over lateral raise are three movements which will concentrate development in the posterior deltoid muscles," the speaker stated. Loiacano discussed six chest, arms, legs, back and abdominal region, with emphasis on the legs.

He urged women involved in tennis, water and snow skiing, jogging on uneven surfaces, bowling, volleyball and softball to practice routine exercise to strengthen the legs and especially the knees.

"Quadracens or the front of the legs can be strengthened through leg extensions or squats, while the ham strings or back of the legs can be conditioned through work on a leg curl machine or by run-ning backwards," the coach

"Calf muscles can be toned by a toe raise while leaning against a wall and pushing up," he said, adding, joggers avoid injury Achilles tendon through conditioning calf muscles.

Emphasis at the convention, attended by some 800 alliance members from Mississippi universities, colleges and high schools, was placed on activities which can keep a person physically active throughout a lifetime.

RyEDGAR PEREZ Mississippi duck hunters are being reminded early that when the Louisiana waterfowl season opens this year, it will not be legal to shoot ducks at that time on any Mississippi lands or waters, according to pfficials at the Mississippi Department of Wildlife Conservation. David Watts, editor of Mississippi Outdoors Magazine, a publication of the department, said Wednesday anyone hunting ducks along the lower reaches of the Pearl River beginning Saturday, Nov. 15 must clearly be on Louisiana land or water.

He noted hunters at that through Jan. 31, 1981.

The division between the three states is prescribed by federal regulations. The location of the boundary is shown on several different types of maps. These should checked by Mississippi River hunters so they will know which state they are hunting in, according to Watts said the state line along the center of the Pearl River which flows between Hancock County and St. Tammany Parish will be considered dividing line as far as hunting is concerned.

PHEASANT RELEASED

Some 408 ring-necked pheasant have been released in the Mississippi Delta by the state Department of Wildlife Conservation in an ex-perimental effort to establish a new game bird for state hunters.

Agency experts say the experimental pheasant release will be closely monitored for five years over several thousand acres which biologists expect the birds to range.

The release was undertaken through the cooperation of several adjacent landowners, Yancev said. "If the pheasants adapt and the initial population expands, birds will be trapped and released in other sections of the state having suitable habitat."

Agency officials are hopeful that the pheasants may one day become a new game species in the Delta and in other sections of the state, providing high quality bird hunting for Mississippi

Biologists explain that springtime cover requirements of pheasants are less than that required by quail. Clean farming has eliminated much of the better bobwhite range in the Delta but it is believed that enough cover may remain to provide escape and breeding habitat

Unbeaten Booneville risks No. One rank against PRC

Not often does a football team with a 5-4 overall mark have a chance for prestige and prominence among the ranks of the nation's best junior

However, for Pearl River College a win Saturday night can mean the Wildcats' return to the national spotlight, as well as a winning season

The Northeast Tigers from Booneville will invade the Dobie Holden Stadium this Saturday, bringing with them rkling 9-0 ledger and the J.C. Gridwire's number one ranking. Coach Bill Ward will also have a lot more in mind than just holding on to his undefeated season. For Ward and the Northeast Tigers the Pearl River Wildcats have long been a thorn in their side. In fact, North east has only beaten the Wildcats on one occasion. That was way back

Since then the Tigers have done very little in the way of upsetting the Wildcats. The overall PRC-Northeast record stands at 14-1, including the Wildcats 41-7 season opener slapping of the Tigers last.

Five of the Wildcat wins have been shutouts. The record also shows the Norjust 90 total points while Pearl River units have racked up 413 oints in 15 tries Pearl River College's Wildcats had an easy time against the Co-Lin Wolves in Wesson Saturday night as the Poplarville based team ran up a 33-3 halftime lead in coasting to its fifth win of the year.

The south division win assured the Wildcats of at least a break-even season and it etched their conference (3-3) mark right-smack in the middle of the seven team division.

Freshman Steve Dees of Picayune was the game breaker as he scored on a 55 yard strike from freshman quarterback Lance Larson in the first period and then returned a Wolf punt 56 yards for another first-half score.

The win put the Wildcats overall mark at 5-4 with Northeast, the nation's number one team, the only opponent left on the 1980 schedule. The game is set for 7:30 p.m. in the Dobie Holder called "Kitchen Remodeling," available for $1.00 from Soft Scrub, P.O. Box 24305, Oakland, California 94623.

Give Your Kitchen A New Look

 Before tackling any project, no matter how simple, do your homework! Read home decorating magazines for ideas, explore kitchens in model homes, investigate gournet shops and kitchen accessory stores in you Personalize your kitchen by choosing a "theme" that fits your lifestyle. For instance, fits your lifestyle. For instance, create a country kitchen atmosphere by covering a bare wall with simulated brick. Hang cooking pots and utensils out in the open on wrought iron rods, add wicker baskets, gingham curtains and let your imagination go!

RSVP begins 'Vail of Life' program

Retired Volunteer Program of Hancock County is implementing a new program aimed at the time of emergencies. RSVP Director Theresa James explains, "The plan calls for keeping a householder's medical data in a plastic vial strapped under the upper right shelf or on the upper right shelf of the refrigerator where it is available to emergency crews should the householder become ill or injured."

"It is a simple, virtually cost-free method of making a health record available and it is free of charge to Senior Citizens,"

James said. "The refrigerator was chosen as a storage place because it is simple, just about everybody has one and it is almost always in the kitchen and easy to find;" she added.
"Hancock County is served by two city fire departments

Senior and policemen as well as the mobile medic ambulance service and they are being notified of this new program. They are being advised to look in the refrigerator first for important information when making emergency calls,' James stated.

"It is expected to be an extremely helpful means of saving time in a crisis and offers a sense of security to the elderly and their families. Anyone who lives alone shares situation," James noted. A

St. Joseph Academy grad mounts library art show

Artist's work currently displayed at the City-County Public Library on US-90 in Bay St. Louis is by Janet Martin of Myrtle Beach, S.C. She is the former Janet Covington, graduate of St. Joseph's Academy in Bay St.

She is also a RN graduate of Mercy School of Nursing in

"I always had an interest in art but never had much formal training, so I promised myself that when my two children started school I would take up painting, but I couldn't resist beginning two years before that," said Martin who began her art study with acrylics, but switched to watercolors when she discovered that she enjoyed the transparency of that

The artist tries to keep her paintings "loose and interesting.

"If it is reproduction that's desired, a photograph is better than a painting," she pointed out.

"In a painting, you should try to capture the essence of the subject matter, the mood. A painting should be more than a pretty picture. It should give you a feeling.'

There are seven paintings in the exhibit, all for sale. Area residents are invited to attend the exhibit during regular library hours Monday from 10 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.; Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Friday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Water utility workshop to eye EPA rule changes

Public rators will discuss changes in federal regulations about bacteriological quality for small water supplies at the fifth annual Gulf Coast Water Control Pollution Operations Short Course.

The session is scheduled Nov. 17-21 at the University of Southern Mississippi Gulf Park campus at Long Beach. "Changes in the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency should make comoliance with the standards simpler," said Jim McDonald, director of the State Board of Health water supply division. charged with insuring the safety of drinking water, the Mississippi State Board of Health is in the process changing its regulations to comply with EPA changes. We'll discuss that at the short course, too," he-said.

Most people regard water as a virtually free commodity in inexhaustible supply. But last year Americans boughts more than 300 million gallons of bottled water even though with a turn of the faucet they have it available virtually free. There is a simple answer to this rather peculiar 20th century phenomenon: consumer demand for a product that tastes and smells better than what's available at the kitchen

Water chemistry took on new meaning in 1974 when it was discovered that the Mis-sissippi River at New Orleans contained some 68 different chemical compounds suspected of causing cancer. The Environmental Protection Agency subsequently identified up to 94 toxic compounds in the New Orleans municipal water. Concern by public health officials.

tific community continues to surround this discovery.

"But one thing for certain," says Doug Elsner, who heads the company's five person water research section, "that discovery provided the impetus to government, industry and the scientific community to dragmatically accelerate the whole field of water research."

"The Federal government is one of the water lab's best customers," says William Hockins, who manages the confract research department responsible for selling the lab's best customers, to the FPA, the center analyzes industrial effuents to detect the preferes of specific "priority" pollutants—those identified by the FPA the center analyzes industrial effuents.

plants, pharmaceutical and plant manufacturers are typi-cal customers of the water lab. Virtually all "foreign" elements in water can be identi-fied. Sophisticated and expen-sive analytical devices are increasing in accuracy. "Ten years ago we could detect trace organic compounds to one part per million. Today, our equipment can detect one part per billion. The newest equipment available can de-tect one part per trillion," ex-plains Dr. Ted Craig, director of the research center. "Our ability to identify these trace elements in these smaller quantities is having a material effect on water quality stan-dards established by EPA."

Samples of water are put through an array of testing techniques. Scientific tests that once took weeks can now be of computer data analysis.

After all "foreign" elements in water are identified, an equally important technical question remains, how to remove some or all of the unwanted, chemical compounds. To get the answers, the lab employs scaled down versions of water treatment devices—electrodialysis, reverse camoris, or ultra filtration; for exchange, ultraviolet light and granulated activated carbon.
